E9-1-1 Institute Honors Intrado Co-Founder

The E9-1-1 Institute has chosen Stephen Meer as the recipient of the 2006 E9-1-1 Institute “Industry Professional” award. This award honors an individual or organization in the commercial sector that has demonstrated exceptional contributions towards the advancement of emergency 9-1-1 communications.

Meer has over twenty-five years of experience providing mission-critical information for use by telecommunications providers and public safety professionals throughout the United States. He is the co-founder and chief technology officer of Intrado, Inc., a global provider of integrated data and telecommunications solutions which provides the core of North America’s 9-1-1 infrastructure and a wide range of safety and mobility offerings

Gregory L. Rohde, executive director of the E9-1-1- Institute said, “The E9-1-1 Institute is proud to recognize the many accomplishments of Mr. Meer in his distinguished career and what he has done to advance public safety communications. This recognition is well deserved.”

The award will be presented at a March 8th ceremony in Washington, D.C.

About the E911 Institute. The E9-1-1 Institute (www.e911institute.org) is a not-for-profit organization, which provides administrative and policy support to the Congressional E9-1-1 Caucus. The purpose of the E9-1-1 Institute is to promote public education and awareness of E9-1-1 and emergency communications issues and serve the Congressional E9-1-1 Caucus as a clearinghouse of information on E9-1-1 and emergency communications issues. Gregory L. Rohde, former Administrator of the National Telecommunications and Information Administration, serves as the E9-1-1 Institute’s Executive Director.
